

Jane Grant

Jane, a Chartered Management Accountant, is Amas Murrison's founder and Co-Director. Jane has over 25 years' experience in national and international accounting, taxation and specialist business advisory services.

Jane's focus is to ensure clients/businesses are gaining access to funding, digitising their process via cloud system integration, minimising taxation, maximising profit, and achieving growth as well as providing good long term business advice.

Running her own business since 2002, Jane has helped businesses grow and feel great by gaining clarity and funding. As a Director of Ayrshire Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Jane provides support to the Ayrshire business community. The Chamber is also a forum for businesses to network, learn, develop and share their experiences for the benefit of achieving economic growth.

Jane strives for a good work life balance for herself and her clients.

Jane enjoys walking along the beautiful Ayrshire coast with the dogs or settling down to watch a Netflix series with tea and chocolate.

Jane's key expertise and skills include:

Leading an accountancy and financial advisory practice in Ayrshire and Glasgow. Providing advice to businesses at all stages: from start-ups, scale-ups and growing businesses to established limited companies and family-run enterprises.

Management accounting, budgeting, financial modelling and analysis.

Securing business funding – debt, grants, equity, alternative finance and R&D Tax Credits.

Digitisation of the finance function and key business processes.

Business strategy, planning, implementation and monitoring.
